

I'm hopeful for...

A better life, an amazing future,

People all liking each other, being Kind and Karing and

Everyone gets to be loved, cared for and have friendship at all time.

Everyone should be treated the same, because everyone has feelings.

Having friends and being amazingly kind to others when there having bad times.

Everyone should have thought for those who are having ups and downs and should not be having ups and downs.

Its amazing things can light the world with happiness and lighting my heart with happiness.
