

My Dreams

It's an established day like any other day, I was in search of an architectural job. All a sudden I got a phone call from an unknown phone number, "RING RING RING" And I picked the phone because I'm INSANE! When I picked up the phone I said "WHO BE THERE!" The unknown caller said "Good afternoon, Mr Grant I see you have been observing our website and we are interested in you joining our university" Then the old fella hung up. But suddenly Grant got beckoned to BUTT LAND, he was so puzzled.

Mr Grant saw a very significant university called Architectural Butt University. Mr Grant said "Oh lord I'm going back HOME! But he heard a vastly gaudy voice he recognised it was the fella he met on the phone. The Gentleman said to him "Hello yet again Mr Grant. Welcome to Architectural Butt University, You will work here for three years" He said. Mr Grant Replied with "Okay Fine"
