

My dream by KM

It was 2020 as I laid in bed with Snowy and Sky at my feet. As they watched me reading my book, I looked at them and wondered.

I wondered what I want to do five years from today, in 2025.

Since I was little, I loved animals. As I looked into my dog's eyes, there you go, I had it my mind. It was filled with ideas! I want to be a vet.

I think that animals should be looked after just as much as people, so to start of with, I'll do some dog walking around my street and then work in a dog grooming salon, then eventually become a vet.

If you try hard for your dream and never give up it will come true! Just do not put yourself down!

I am 15 in 3 weeks so, when I turn 15 I'm going to do some dog walking. That will just be like my week job (because you have to start somewhere to achieve something you really want)

I've always loved dogs and horses, so when I am older and a practicing vet, I would love to live on a horse ranch and care for horses every day. I think that's my biggest dream. To have horses and dogs would mean I have achieved my biggest dream!
